Completed whilst working for Nilsson Design this remodelling and refurbishment of a Grade 2 Listed Georgian mews house was for a renowned Interior Designer:

To invigorate a dark and uninviting Lower Ground floor the rear elevation was partly removed at garden level and the garden re-landscaped to allow garden and kitchen/ dining areas to flow into each other. A structural glass extension at this level expanded floor space whilst maximising natural light penetration into the house.

Further up the house, the staircase was remodelled to allow a more open plan layout whilst facilitating the addition of a third storey with mansard roof.
